The indictment on which McKane is under trial charges that he is guilty of the crime of wilfully violating a provision of the Election law relative to the registration of electors. There are three counts. The first charges that the defendant "did maliciously, feloniously, knowingly and unlawfully neglect and refuse... to have such lists and register of voters and three certified copies thereof at all reasonable hours accessible to the public for examination, and for making copies thereof." The second count charges in substance that the same offence was committed by neglect to perform the duties imposed as election officers. The third and last charges "the crime of fraud in the execution of the duties of the office." McKane, it is charged, "did maliciously, feloniously, unlawfully, wilfully and knowingly counsel and command, induce and procure, aid and abet" the Registry Board in the misconduct charged, which is a felony.

Mr. Coudert was seen at No. 13 East Forty-fifthst., where be lives. "Is it true, Mr. Coudert." was asked, "that the vacancy on the bench of the United States Supreme Court was offered you and that you declined?

Declined it upon what ground?" said he. "Upon the ground, it is said, that it came secondhand, and that it was only after the President had tried hard to get Mr Hornblower confirmed and failed that he thought of you." "Has that really been said?" Mr. Coudert asked.

"It has," answered the reporter. "How strange!" said he, musingly, "How strange!" said he again, "And yet I suppose I am expected to dispose of this childish rumor one way or the other, and this I do readily by simply denying the statement, and in a doubly emphatic way that part of it which says that I refused the place because it had been offered first to Mr. Hornblower. I think so highly of Mr. Hornblower, personally and professionally, that I should not have felt in the slightest descree humiliated if he had been selected in the first instance and I in the second. He has an advantage which he will outgrow, but which he nevertheless possesses, and that is comparative youth. As for Mr. Peckham, he is a splendid man in every respect, a man notable for the integrity of his mind, by which I mean that instinctive ability to decide questions without reference to external circumstances, but simply upon their own merits. He will make an admirable judge if the Senate will only give him a chance." "How strange!" said he, musingly, "How

The preferred stock opened at 30, against $1 on Monday, and closed at $1. THE FIGHT OVER A SUPERVISORSHIP. MOTION FOR A MANDAMUS TO COMPEL MR. FITCHIE TO RECOGNIZE MR. KEHOE AR-GUED-DECISION RESERVED. The motion for a mandamus to compel the Supervisor-at-Large, Mr. Fitchie, to recognize George Ke-hoe as Supervisor of the Eighth Ward was argued before Judge Cullen yesterday. The facts in the case were set forth by counsel. For Kehoe it was argued that he was appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Supervisor Stickevers, in October. He was recognized as the Supervisor of the ward to the end of the year, when he resigned, and was reappointed and took the eath of office; but time to do this after his death. Kehoe's appointment to the place expired on December 21, and the present vacancy existed because no successor to him had been elected. He reserved decision, and asked counsel to present briefs.

The Board of Supervisors held no meeting yesterday afternoon for lack of a quorum, and adjourned until Monday of part week.

A CONFERENCE HELD AT THE MAYOR'S OFFICE

-AN ORDINANCE TO BE DRAWN UP. The question of the speed of trolley cars was the subject of an extended conference yesterday at the Mayor's office. Mayor Schieren, Corporation Counsel Jenks, the Electrical Subway C Messrs, Plympton and Lee; Aldermen Clark, Leich and McGarry, Secretary Bogardus, of the Brooklyn City Railroad Company; President Norton, of the Atlantic Avenue company; Colonel Partridge, of the De Kalb-ave, line; H. W. Siocum, jr., of the Jay and Smith sts. line; Thomas C. Moore, counsel for the Broadway company; Joseph McDonald, a conductor for the Brooklyn City company, and Patrick T. Hickey, a conductor for the Atlantic Avenue company, were present. The report of Professor Plympton, showing that the cars were run at unlawful rates of speed, was read, and he explained the plan of securing the data. Mayor Schieren said the conference had been called to learn what the railroad companies had to say regarding the excessive rate of speed, Mr. Bogardus said that his company was ready and anxious to avoid running the cars at excessive speed, and that any motorman exceeding ten miles an hour would be punished. Letters were read from Presidents Norton and Partridge, saying that their companies would conform to any reasonable regulations. Orders had been issued forbidding the men to exceed the lawful rate of speed. In reply to questions by the Mayor, Mr. Bogardus said that the schedule time called for a speed varying from four to eight miles an hour, and if ten miles an hour were exceeded it was in violation of express orders. He thought it would be a good idea to have the motormen examined and their groticincy criffied to by the city. The Mayor said that passengers talked to motormen and distracted their attention. Mr. Biogardus said that the company had seventy or eighty inspectors whose duty was to report motormen, but there were none whose duty was to observe the speed of the cars. The Mayor suggested that a speed not above ax miles an hour should be run at street crossings. Mr. Bogardus said that the speed in Folion-st, below Courtest, was not greater than four and three-tenths miles an hour, and between Courtest, and Flatbushave, six and nine-tenths miles an hour. Colonel Partridge said the public wished to ride as fast as consistent with safety. All the time tables were arranged on a basis of ten miles an hour. Excass of speed beyond this was due to efforts on the part of the motormen to make up time lost by delays from vehicles. Mr. McDonaid, a conductor, took exception to the criticism of motormen. The impossible was expected of them. If they did not make their time they were likely to be discharged. Not enough time was allowed for their standing at the end of the line between trips. If a man did not make his time he did not remain long on the road, and he could not get employment on another.

The Mayor desired the representatives of the commiles an hour were exceeded it was in violation of another.

The Mayor desired the representatives of the companies to agree upon a proper ordinance covering the matter, as the one drawn up last summer was never adopted.

Police Superintendent Campbell issued an order to the police force yesterday calling attention to the need of observing the rate of speed of the trolley cars.

THE PREACHER HAS LITTLE FAITH IN THE OUT COME OF THE RESOLUTIONS PASSED BY THE POLICE BOARD-WHAT HE SAYS OF RAIDS.

At the meeting of the Police Board yesterday Commissioner McLean reported that he had ex-amined the testimony taken before the Excise Board at the trial of several barroom-keepers in the Fourth Ward, whose places were mentioned in the lists of disorderly houses submitted by Dr Parkhurst's Society to Captain Slevin and the Police Commissioners. "The testimony," said Mr. McLean, "would show that four places were known to be disorderly resorts." He then introduced a resolution that Dr. Parkhurst, Thaddeus D. Ken-nicon and Frank Moss be requested to procure the attendance before the board of witnesses to the facts tending to show that premises in the Fourth Pre-cinct have been used in violation of law, and that such facis, together with the facis testified to before the Board of Excise by certain officers of the Fourth Precinct on January 4, be embodied in appropriate specifications under a charge or charges of neglect of duty to be preferred against Edward Slevin, captain of the Fourth Precinct. The resolution was passed.

"I cannot see that any result except certain defeat would be attained even if we presented our evidence to the Police Commissioners, as they re-quest," said Dr. Parkhurst last night, when he had carefully read over the words of Mr. McLean's resolution. "Now, what is that they ask us to do? We are to put before them the evidence which we have obtained with so much difficulty, and which they can get with such ease, when they choose to do so. We are to give up the names of our witnesses and agents, and put them before the Com-missioners, so that they could be marked down for identification by the whole police force. This was what happened in the case of the Broome-st, rlot, Superintendent Byrnes asked us to bring our witnesses before him. I was in favor of doing this, Those associated with me were opposed to it, and they were right. All our witnesses were simply taken there, so that the detectives and others could recognize them.
